

AUMENTANDO
CAPACIDAD
EN PREVENCIÓN

EXPANDING
PREVENTION
CAPACITY

Acción Mutua is a program of AIDS Project Los Angeles
in collaboration with César E. Chávez Institute and funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Web Seminar: HIV+ Latinas

About this Web Seminar:

Latinas are getting infected with the HIV virus at alarming rates. Recent data indicates that one in every five infections with the HIV virus is among Latinas. HIV-positive Latinas have specific needs with regards to HIV prevention, support and medical services. This web seminar provides information and insights regarding Latinas with HIV for providers who are interested in serving this population. This information highlights important considerations in planning and implementing HIV services and prevention for this population.

Web seminar participants will gain knowledge of:

- The implications of diversity among Latinas with HIV
- Factors that can affect HIV positive Latinas including:
 - ✓ Being tested and getting the diagnosis
 - ✓ Stigma, disclosure and violence
 - ✓ Health care and coping with the virus
 - ✓ Other significant cultural elements

Seminar approach:

We encourage participants to submit questions in order to make the seminar interactive and responsive to their particular concerns. Submit questions between now and the day of the seminar to accionmutua@apla.org; entitle the email "9/29 Seminar Questions."

Details:

This web seminar is FREE. Participants will log in to the appropriate website and call a toll free number to participate in the discussion.

RSVP: Please sign up by email at accionmutua@apla.org

You will receive instructions on how to log in and what number to call after you register.

DATE: Tuesday, September 29, 2009

TIME: 11:00- 12:00 pm Pacific Time (please check your local time)

Acción Mutua works to enhance the capacity of community-based organizations and health departments funded directly or indirectly (CBOs via their local/state health department) by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to provide HIV prevention services to organizations serving Latinos in the western region of the United States. Specifically, Acción Mutua provides professional, needs-based consultation, training and technical assistance on developing, adopting, adapting, tailoring, implementing, improving, evaluating, and sustaining the delivery of effective, high quality, culturally-responsive HIV prevention interventions for Latinos and other people of color at risk for or living with HIV/AIDS. Acción Mutua is committed to a philosophy of reciprocal partnership and equitable exchange of knowledge/expertise as prerequisites to expand capacity.

CONTACT

Monica Nuño
Capacity Building Specialist
P (213) 201-1408
F (213) 201-1598
accionmutua@apla.org